First Wheat In Monday

Hamlin's first wheat was brought in Monday afternoon, May 16, about 5 p.m. by L. O. Oen, who farms about 6 miles north-west of Hamlin. This year's grain was brought in two days earlier than the first last year.

The pick-up load was taken to Haskell Warehouse where Sam Wilcox reported the load weighed 1,825 pounds with 18.25 per cent moisture content, average 58 pound bushel weight and brought $1.70 per bushel.

The 30 bushel, 25 pound, load was cut from one acre and indications are that the crop of Early Triumph variety will average 30 bushels to the acre.

Grady and Travis Smith brought in their first wheat at 2:30 Tuesday to Moore Elevator. This is one day earlier than the first wheat last year which was brought in by the Smith brothers on May 18.

Robert Fowler, manager, said the Early Triumph variety graded out 58.5 pounds per bushel with a moisture content of about 16 per cent.

The Smiths farm south of Hamlin on the Anson Highway and are expecting a yield of 17 to 18 bushels to the acre. Scattered sections of 5 to 6 acres were cut for the first load, which weighed 7,060 lbs.

Council Approves Term Paving Plan

In an effort to make street paving available to more Hamlin citizens, the City Council approved up to a four-year budget paving program at their regular meeting here Tuesday night.

The proposal was made by directors of the Board of Community Development after a careful study had been made by several BCD members. Those making the study were: Melvin Scott, chairman of the Civic Affairs Committee, Fred B. Moore, Jr., and John C. Bryant.

Mayor John Howard Jr., urged the cooperation of every citizen to participate in the proposed street paving program to help eliminate dust, heavy maintenance costs, poor drainage, mosquito breeding places, etc.

Howard said, "In effort to get this program under way, the city has called for sealed bids for the street paving contract to be in Hamlin not later than May 31, 1960."

The time-payment plan would allow those who want to pay on small monthly terms to pay for their paving along with their water bill. It was estimated that approximately 40 city blocks have been curbed and would be ready for paving as soon as some organized program could be offered.

Eddie Jay, owner of a cotton warehouse and storage, became interested in the program and after making an investigation of possibilities, designed the program which was proposed to the city council.

The Hamlin BCD, who had initiated a paving program back in the fall of last year, stamped their approval at their regular directors meeting here Monday night.

Other business brought before the city council by the directors was the BCD indorsement to a proposal for the development of a master plan for Hamlin.

This program was introduced to the old city council last February. They failed to take action because only one council member would remain pending the outcome of the city election in April.

The proposal was discussed by the new city council Tuesday night but no action was taken since some members had not heard the prior discussion on the need for a master plan.

It was decided to ask Joe Jones, planning consultant of the Freese, Nichols and Endress engineering firm of Fort Worth, to meet with council members at a called meeting sometime this week.

Food Sense — Not Nonsense

It's Bigger Than Both of Us

When one and one add up to more than two, it perplexes chick, child, or chief. Unlike the hen hatching twins from one egg, nutrition scientists recognize a bonus when they see one. They have looked to protein from animal sources as the ideal for growth and tissue building. Now, as they experiment in adding foods together to find the best diet for man, they come up with this plus value: Animals grow better when their food contains protein from both animal and plant sources. Animals do not grow as well when the protein is from one source alone.

At a recent nutrition conference, Dr. Leo Friedman, Nutrition Division of the Food and Drug Administration, told the why of this. Nutritionists are concerned not so much with the quality of one particular food as with the quality of the whole meal. And, he added, the total value of the whole meal may be much greater when protein comes from both animal and plant sources... greater than the sum of the individual parts. It may be bigger than both of them.

"It must be remembered," said Dr. Friedman, "that the protein contribution from cereal and other plant sources in a mixed diet is much greater than would be indicated by their protein quality when determined individually."

His reminder directs us in selecting our food each day. In nutrition, he tells us, one and one add up to more than two. If we over-emphasize any one food—no matter how valuable—we may be subtracting from the nutritive value of the whole. A good foodway to follow each day includes: Two servings of meat or an alternate, two servings of milk or cheese, four servings of fruits or vegetables, four servings of enriched or whole grain bread or cereal.

Chevy hums through Chicago traffic to the tune of 21 miles to the gallon!

Working for Bumper and Auto of Illinois, Inc., ten 1960 Chevrolet pickups battle Chicago traffic day after day. Each truck averages about 2,000 miles a month in this wearing stop-and-start delivery service. Mr. Harry Haller, General Manager of S & H Truck Leasing, who leases the trucks to the bumper firm, reports: "We provide full maintenance on the trucks—gas, oil and everything else—so it pays us to know just where we stand on costs. And our records show that the '60 Chevies are giving us as much as 21 miles per gallon... with an average of better than 17 miles per gallon. Mister, these are our kind of trucks!"

Truck owners have good things to say about all Chevy engines. And when they're not talking about Chevrolet performance and economy, they're telling you how great that new Torsion-Spring Ride is. How it soaks up road shock and vibration. Protects fragile loads. Lets you run at faster, safe speeds to get more work done in a day. Drive a torsion-spring Chevy soon. We'll rest our case on that one ride.

An Inspired Chocolate Dessert

Integrating in more ways than one is this exquisite Chocolate Continental. There's an unusual ingredient—mashed potatoes; an unexpected flavor—coffee; and an unorthodox method of preparation—no cooking. Just try it and see what a delightful concoction it is.

Chocolate Continental

- 5 squares unsweetened chocolate
- 3/4 cup butter or margarine
- 1 1/2 cups sugar
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 to 2 tablespoons instant coffee
- 2 egg yolks, unbeaten
- 3/4 cup water
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 cup milk
- 1/4 cup (1/2 envelope) instant mashed potatoes
- 2 tablespoons rum or 1/2 teaspoon rum extract

Melt chocolate over hot water. Meanwhile, cream butter and sugar thoroughly. Add vanilla and instant coffee. Beat in egg yolks. Add melted chocolate and beat again.

Bring water and salt to a full boil. Remove from heat and add milk. Slowly add instant mashed potatoes. Stir with a fork until thoroughly moistened. Beat until potatoes are light and fluffy. Add the mashed potatoes to the chocolate mixture; mix well. Stir in rum. Pour into a 7x4x3-inch loaf pan, which has been lined with waxed paper. Cover and chill in refrigerator 8 hours, or overnight.

Remove from pan. Garnish with confectioners' sugar frosting, if desired. Cut into 1/2-inch slices. Makes 12 to 16 servings.

Spotlight On Dessert

Turn the spotlight on a dessert that can be made in a jiffy with the can of fruit you have on the shelf. Ginger Pear Crumble (or it may be peach, pineapple or fruit cocktail), served with or without its crown of ice cream, makes a fine finish for any meal. Your choice of fruit perked with a bit of lemon juice blends perfectly with the spicy gingersnap crumb mixture. Serve it warm or cold to fit the rest of your menu.

Ginger Pear Crumble

1½ cups gingersnap cookie crumbs	½ cup brown sugar, firmly packed
¼ cup butter, or margarine	½ teaspoon salt
1 can (1 lb. 14 oz.) pears, or other fruit	½ teaspoon cinnamon
1 tablespoon lemon juice	¼ teaspoon nutmeg
	Vanilla ice cream (optional)

Mix crumbs and melted butter; spread half of mixture in a baking dish. Arrange pear halves on top of crumbs and sprinkle with lemon juice and ¼ cup of the syrup. Combine sugar, salt and spices; sprinkle over pears. Top with rest of crumb mixture. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) about 25 minutes. Serve warm or cold with or without ice cream. Six servings.

Mix Sunshine With Suds!

Housework becomes twice as easy when a pint-sized helper yields a sudsy cloth alongside Mom in the fresh air. Even scrubbing blinds is almost enjoyable with soft grass to kneel on and breezes ruffling your hair!

These "too nice to stay indoors days," make it a point to get out in the sunshine! Housework to do? Why not plan your schedule of household tasks so that you can do some of your chores out in the yard — and have some fun in the sun while you work. Venetian blinds, kitchen or porch chairs can be spruced up outdoors even more efficiently than indoors!

A bucket full of hot soap or detergent suds, another containing rinse water, some cloths or sponges, and washing the grimy blinds becomes healthful exercise, instead of a tiresome chore. Besides the obvious virtue of getting out and soaking up some vitamin D, outdoor housework is actually simplified by the fact that no elaborate cover-up precautions are needed (the grass will soak up any spilled water and be the better for it), there's no space problem, and really no need for wiping dry — since sunshine is the best natural dryer.

If you have a tot who likes to "help" with the housework, set her to work with a big squishy sponge, a pail of suds, and a garden or porch chair. Both boys and girls will enjoy being mother's helper. Older children can be pressed into service scrubbing larger items such as screens and storm windows, or bulky Venetian blinds.

The garden hose, incidentally, is a very helpful accessory for outdoor housework — saving countless trips inside to refill buckets. If you wish, it can usually be connected to the kitchen or basement hot water faucet, and run through a window or door to supply running hot water for sudsing and tempered warm water for rinsing. But even a fine spray of cold water from an outdoor faucet is satisfactory for rinsing.

You can think of many more ways to bring housework outdoors this summer, and you and your family will be the happier and healthier for it!

Boat Owners Registering Craft at Rate of 600 Day

By Vern Sanford

Texas boat owners are registering their crafts with the highway department in Austin at the rate of 600 to 700 per day.

You'd think it wouldn't take long for every boat in the Longhorn State to be "on record." But did you know that there are 212,000 boats in Texas, and the number is increasing daily?

Who said Texas was arid? Where there's a boat there's bound to be water. And where there are 212,000 boats then aqua must be in great abundance.

According to Bob Townsley, chairman of registrations in the Austin office of the highway department, more than 115,000 boat numbers have been assigned as of May 1, under the new water safety law.

Really the popularity of boats in Texas is not too surprising when you stop to consider the state's geography.

Texas is bounded on the south by the Gulf of Mexico, with wonderful bay fishing or deep sea fishing, or both, from Port Arthur to Brownsville.

Our northern boundary is the Red River and the mammoth bass fishing area provided by Lake Texoma.

To our west is the Rio Grande River with its increasingly popular and highly productive Lake Falcon.

On the east we have the Sabin River with an abundance of good fishing all the way from Lake Texarkana and Caddo Lake south to the Gulf of Mexico.

That's not all that Texas has to offer the fisherman. Not by a long shot.

Did you know that there are more than 700 lakes in Texas? You'll be surprised to learn that not one of them is a natural lake. All are man-made. Over 600 of them are 100-acre lakes and larger, with the remaining 100 much larger.

You can draw a not too wavy line through the center of Texas, north to south, from the Red River to the Gulf of Mexico, that will touch such wonderful Lakes (Buchanan, Inks, Gran- Bridgeport, Dallas, Worth, Eagle Mountain, Whitney, Brownwood, Waco, Belton and the six beautiful Highland Lakes (Buchanan, Inks, Granite Shoals, Marble Falls, Travis and Austin)—not to mention Lake Medina and Lake Corpus Christi.

Then toss in some wonderful lakes east and west of center and you have a tidy lot of temptation for the angler.

For example, there is Lake Kemp, Oak Creek Lake, Shafter Lake, Cedar Lake, Devil's Lake, Lake Nasworthy, San Angelo Reservoir, Lake Abilene and a handful of others in what once was known as dry west Texas.

Good fishing spots abound in the Eastern half of Texas, with fish-filled rivers and clear running streams providing plenty of outdoor pleasure.

To name a few of east Texas' popular lakes there's Alcoa Lake, Lake Houston, Dam B. Reservoir, Mountain Creek Lake, Lake Lavin . . . all fine fishing spots. And there are many, many, more, such as Lake Mervel, Striker Lake, and others.

So, you see, there's a reason for all those boats.

And there is a special reason too, why you who haven't done so should have your boat registered.

Ever have your boat stolen? Well, it has been done, you know. Maybe not yours, but there, have plenty of others suffered. And yours could be next.

Numbering your boat will lessen the danger of theft.

However, if it is stolen numbering also will help prevent resale of the boat. This because the original numbering certificate must go with the boat when you transfer ownership. Finally, and equally as important, it will hasten return of your boat in case it is stolen, as numbering is a definite aid to police and patrolmen.

Many boat owners, incidentally, are making photo copies of their boat number certificates.

They keep the original in the family safe and carry only the duplicate copy in the boat. By so doing they can furnish evidence of ownership in conformity with the law, but avoid the possibility of losing or damaging the original "title."

Actually the boat numbering law is a misnomer. True enough the boats are assigned a number by the highway department. But the charge for same is determined largely, by the size of the motor.

We have covered this angle before, but there is one phase we haven't stressed. It is true that if you have a boat, powered by a motor of 10 hp or less, you don't have to apply for a number, regardless of the size of the boat.

However—you oughta number your boat anyway . . . and get it recorded. In the first place you can get a number assigned to your boat for $1 and it covers three full years. As we've said before, the number becomes a part of your boat. So it is a permanent record from the day you attach that number to your boat.

Of course, it's true that automobiles are stolen every day, even though they bear a license. But you can bet your bottom dollar more of them would disappear if that license wasn't on the car.

Remember too that the car license isn't permanently assigned to the motor vehicle; nor is the tag permanently attached.

In the case of your boat the number is painted or decaled on both sides. It is firmly affixed, permanently recorded. Possibility permanently assigned, and officially recorded. Possibility of the t is minimized.

That dollar you spend for a boat number could prove to be the best "insurance" dollar you ever spent.

Years of Service to Rural Texans

The month of May marks the 25th anniversary of the greatest advancement in the history of rural America . . . electrification. It took a century from the invention of the electric motor . . . and a half century from the invention of the incandescent lamp . . . And when no one else would do it . . . rural people borrowed money and built their own electric systems. But the miracle was accomplished. Today the Electric Cooperatives are looking ahead to the next quarter century . . . staying ahead of the demand in rural areas . . . installing heavier lines and improving equipment to offer a steady, dependable, low cost electric service.

While they cannot look back . . . still in this Silver Jubilee year there is a prayer of Thanksgiving in the hearts of millions for the courage that struck a spark to burn the dark with the Light That Did Not Fail.

TRAFFIC HINTS

J. L. McCurdy, chief of police.

We are aware of the fact that many people who have lived in one small city or community for the better part of their lives unconsciously violate one or more traffic laws daily. This may be due to the fact that they have been allowed to do things so long without being warned or cautioned, as to the danger involved, that they do not know or realize that they are in violation of the law.

We also know that most people want to adhere as strictly to the law as possible. We are going to endeavor through future columns in the Herald to formulate an educational program whereby citizens of Hamlin might be enlightened on some of the violations that they are now guilty of, therefore giving them the opportunity to refrain from the practice.

I, or any member of my office will gladly help with any traffic problem you are in doubt of.

In the event that we are not in immediate possession of the knowledge of your particular problem, rest assured that we will secure this information for you, if it is at all possible.

Feel free to call on us for advice at any time.

Our aim is to help prevent violation more so than it is to apprehend after the violation has been committed.

Yours for better law enforcement,

46 Hamlin Seniors See Sights of New Orleans

The following is an account of the trip to New Orleans, La., which was taken by 46 graduates of Hamlin High School.

A group of gay, happy, and carefree seniors boarded the Hamlin High School buses May 10, and began their five day excursion into New Orleans and the surrounding countryside. In Anson the students changed to the chartered Greyhound buses driven by J. W. Smith and C. E. Shelton, and began on their journey. The students, 26 boys and 20 girls, were accompanied by their sponsors, Mrs. Charles Scott, Mrs. Dora Mitchell and H. Williams and their principal, B. V. Newberry. The class mothers, Mrs. Thomas Ferguson, Mrs. Benny Ford, and Mrs. Vincent Shields. Although the students were full of vitality in the beginning, by 3:00 a.m. only the voices of several could be heard.

Upon arriving at Baton Rouge, all seniors ate and then toured the gorgeous Louisiana capitol. It is known to be one of the most beautiful capitol buildings in the United States. The inside is made almost entirely of imported marble. From the top of the twenty-two story building can be seen the landscaped gardens and the city below.

At approximately 12:00 a.m. Wednesday morning the buses arrived at the Sheraton Charles Hotel in New Orleans. After resting or a few short minutes most of the seniors went out on a tour of their own. The class was scheduled to go to Lake Ponchartrain Wednesday night, however, because of rain and cold, the park was closed. The class then made reservations for the Blue Room a night early. In this fabulous room of dining and dancing in the Roosevelt Hotel, the class was entertained by its wonderful band and other special entertainment. Many of the class considered this the high point of the trip.

Early Thursday morning, Mr. Newberry began making calls to the rooms to wake the Seniors for the activities of the day. After breakfast, seniors began an extensive tour of the hundred year old city. It began on the 171 feet wide Canal St. It was explained to the seniors that the French Quarters were completely demolished by the great fire of 1788 and the Spanish rebuilt the town, therefore, almost all architecture is Spanish.

The seniors were also shown Jackson Square, in the center of the French Quarters. It was here that all historical events, such as the ceremonies of the Louisiana purchase, took place. The seniors were shown the oldest apartments in the United States, the old government house and the Calabozo (jail) which Lafayette made his famous escape.

The group was shown through beautiful St. Louis Cathedral, oldest in the United States. The first parish church began in 1724, but was destroyed by the fire and was rebuilt later in 1792. Some of the most beautiful murals, paintings, and windows in the world are located in this church. After leaving the tour, all seniors agreed with the guide's statement that old New Orleans is as close to Europe as you can get without going abroad.

Seniors took a boat ride along the Mississippi aboard the President in the afternoon. This trip was very interesting and educational for all. Later that evening the class was again taken to Lake Ponchartrain. Here the seniors rode the rides and had a very enjoyable time until weather and cold cold forced them in.

Early Friday morning the group began the long journey home. They spent the afternoon and night in Galveston where almost all the seniors had a very enjoyable swim in the gulf. That night they went bowling, skating, or to Pleasure Pier. In the morning the seniors said good-by to Galveston and continued the long trip home. On the way some talked and some slept. In Austin they went through the capitol. At approximately 8:00 p.m. the buses arrived in Hamlin. The seniors were home, perhaps tired and sleepy, but more mature and experienced because of this educational and exciting trip into the world.

This little farmer will inherit 49 empty tummies!

Grandpa fed 10 people. Dad produces for 25. But our skyrocketing population will force baby Bill to provide 53.655 meals yearly for 49 people. And he'll do it with the help of modern science, farmer know-how, and push-button electrical power.

Today, nearly 1,000 non-profit Rural Electric Systems—owned and operated by local people and financed by REA loans—are bringing better health and a touch of city living to people in rural areas. These same Rural Electric Systems are building lines to help Bill and other future farmers feed 175 million more people by 1995. And they have plans to install bigger transformers, and string heavier lines to fill future rural power needs which are now doubling every five to seven years.

Rural electrification is food insurance for all. Its cost, however, is borne by the people who use it. Already Rural Electric Systems have paid more than $1 billion in principal and interest on their $3½ billion REA loans... added proof these locally-owned systems are one of the best investments our Nation ever made.

CONTRACTS LET IN AUSTIN FOR FM 611 AND HWY 180

On April 19, 1960 bids were taken and a contract let by the Texas Highway Department in Austin, Texas for the construction of Farm to Market Road 611 and construction on U. S. Highway 180 in Fisher County.

The contract was awarded to the low bidder, Cage Brothers of San Antonio. A pre-construction meeting to promote traffic safety on these highway construction projects was held at Roby on Wednesday, May 4, 1960.

Attending the meeting called by Sr. Resident Engineer, Nelson Shave were representatives of the Contractor, Department of Public Safety, Maintenance Foreman of the County and Highway Department Engineering Personnel.

The new highway construction project on Farm to Market 611 begins at the end of the existing pavement 4.7 miles south of U. S. Highway 180 and extends to Farm to Market Road 419 at Capitola, a distance of 6.9 miles and will consist of grading, structures, base and surfacing. This section of the project will cost $168,933.49. The construction on U. S. Highway 180 will be at the Panhandle and Santa Fe Railroad Overpass approximately 10 miles East of Roby. This project is 0.5 miles in length and will consist of widening the approaches to the overpass. This section of the project will cost $37,933.79.

The purpose of a pre-construction meeting was to secure close cooperation between the Contractor, Department of Public Safety and Texas Highway Department Engineering personnel in promoting traffic safety through the limits of the construction project.

Traffic will be routed through construction on the the subgrade, shoulders, slopes, ditches and specially constructed detours paralleling the existing road. Adequate barricades and warning signals will be prominently displayed, but motorists should be extremely cautious in passing the area as it will be heavily traveled by large Highway equipment. The construction area is speed zoned for maximum speed of 40 miles per hour for the protection of motorist and workmen alike.

The contractor plans to begin work this week and completion is expected in September of this year.

Cooperation of the public is requested in obeying all traffic signals, warning signs and speed zones.

County Agent Tells Of Rose Damage

Rose bud rosettes turn brown and in many cases fail to bloom because of a damage done by a tiny sucking insect called "thrips," according to county agent, Kirby Clayton.

On close observation, these tiny insects are visible to the naked eye, but can be detected more easily with a magnifying glass. This insect starts sucking moisture from the immature rose buds at an early stage causing a rosette bloom and a brownish cast to appear. These insects are so small, that they frequently go unnoticed by the average gardener.

Application of malathion in a 5% dust or emulsion spray to flowers and buds every two or three days will destroy many thrips and result in more rose blooms. DDT, Dieldrin, Lindane, and Taxpene dusts or sprays are also effective.

NEWS FROM YOUR B C D

BY ORVILLE D. ROLAND

This newspaper has extended me the courtesy of writing a column on the activities of the Board of Community Development.

There's no other subject I like better to write about than community development. I live it—breathe it—talk it—and think it.

Everybody is an expert in community development. You can always find someone who will tell you just what is wrong with the community or just what the community needs out of it is hard to find someone who is willing to give of their time, money and interest to service those needs.

But there is more science in community development than what appears on the surface. Unless a person takes the time to study those very basic sciences dealing with community progress, social economics, human behavior, business sciences, and many other fields, would he be qualified to say what is actually good for the community.

Now everybody doesn't have time for this type of studying and analyzing communities. It's a full-time job—unless someone makes a career of this work, there is no one to turn to for such vital information. Then communities take the path of least resistance. They work to obtain those things they think they need and many times relieve a particular situation instead of solving their problem.

Problems are always there. It is how a community deals with these problems that determines the success of their community problems, no matter how smart or intelligent that person may be. Solving community problems is a matter of putting the right people on the right problem. That's one of the basic functions of your chamber of commerce board of community development. The board of directors for such an organization is made up of a cross section of community interests—business men—professional men—farmers—ranchers—industrialists—private citizens and others. Each evaluates community problems in the light of his own interests and passes their decision on to a particular group who want to serve that particular need. These groups are called committees. They are the people who carry out the program for community development.

When these committees have

Superintendent Expresses His Appreciation

Hamlin School Superintendent C. F. Cook expressed his appreciation to the people of Hamlin, students, teachers, and others this week for a fine school year.

The following is the report released this week by Mr. Cook.

This school year has passed very quickly and is almost history. We have students and parents who are very happy and well pleased; also we have those who are disappointed. We hope with this happiness and disappointment that you are pleased with the instruction and administration of your school.

We know that we have made many fine contributions as well as errors this year, but we want to assure you we have at all times put the child first in all matters. We think we have a fine school with a fine student body. We also think that our children have wonderful mothers and fathers, because without the latter, our school and community could not and would not be the type to have a good school and community.

The cooperation of the students, parents and many other people has been wonderful. This is always necessary in order that we may all be happy and progressive. The teachers and administration say thanks to everyone who has made our jobs pleasant.

C. F. Cook, Superintendent of schools, expresses his appreciation to the students, teachers, principals, school board members, and others for being so considerate and helpful in planning and meeting the problems of this school year. He said this has been a most enjoyable year, with the same interest and cooperation next year we will have another good school year.

He states that any changes in our school program or policies will be given to the Hamlin Herald for publication.

Texas Drops to Fifth in College Trained Teachers

In five years Texas has dropped from second place to fifth place in the percentage of college trained teachers in its elementary schools, latest national rankings show.

Oklahoma now leads the nation with 99.6 of its elementary teachers having four or more years of college. Arizona, Florida, and New Mexico also lead Texas, which is fifth with 95.6 per cent.

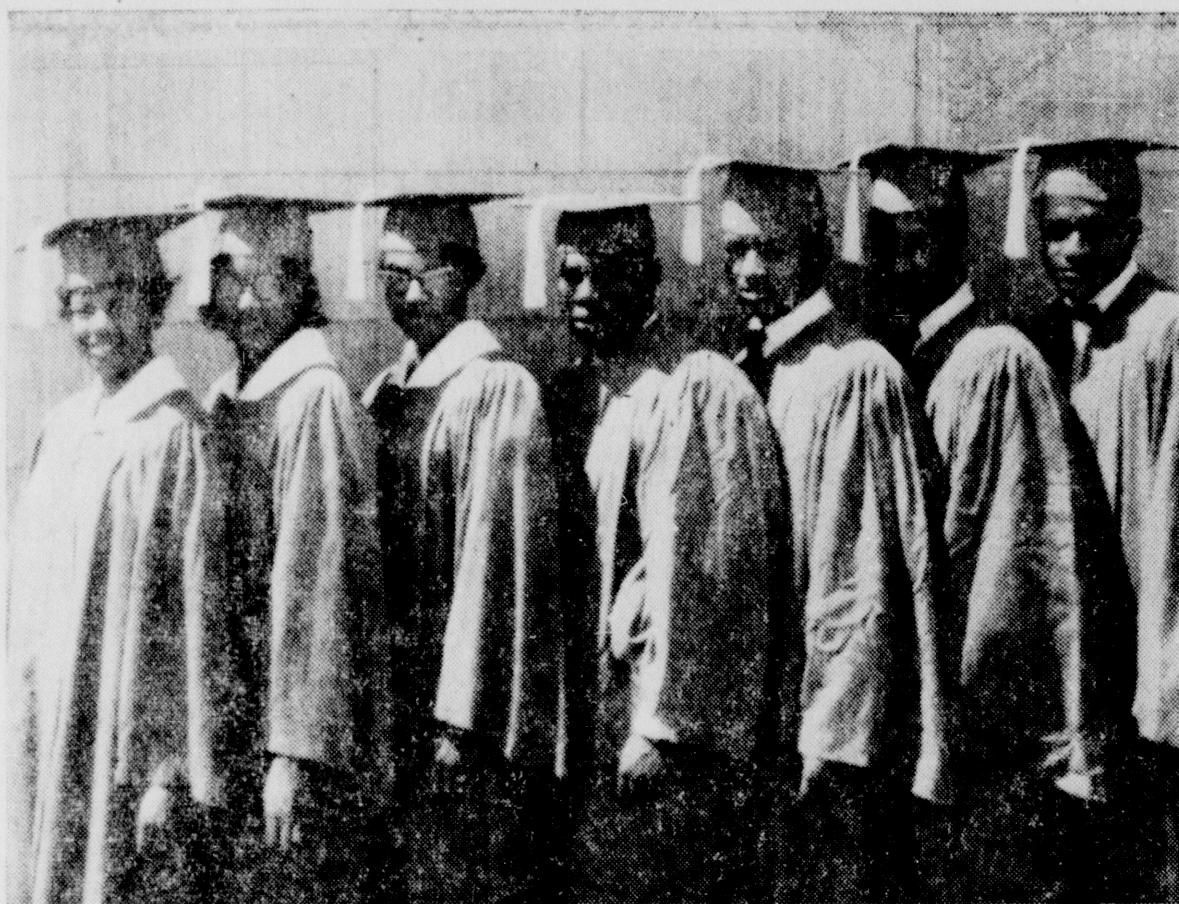

Both the border states of Oklahoma and New Mexico, as well as nearby Arizona, have higher average teacher salaries than Texas.

In 1953-54 Texas was in second place. At that time, Arizona was first and Oklahoma was down in seventh position.

By 1958-59, the latest figures available, Oklahoma had vaulted to first place of the strength of higher requirements and better salaries. Only 80 of Oklahoma's 21,400 teachers do not have at least a bachelor's degree.
